Please Note: Any transactions stopped by the bank will cancel your direct deposit processing until corrections are made, which may require you to complete a new Direct Deposit Authorization Form. Delta Dental is not responsible for any bank fees related to expenditures made before a deposit is credited to your account by your financial institution. It is your responsibility to verify that the funds are in your account before you expend them. Delta Dental will continue to deposit funds to your account for your commission payments until you notify us in writing that you would like to discontinue this service.
